Beef Up U.S. Defenses, Air Chief Advises

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Force Gen. Thomas D. White told senators today it might be wise to beef up this nation's defense because of "irrational behavior" at the Paris summit conference.

White's reference to "irrationality" came as he was questioned by senators about collapse of the Paris conference brought on by actions of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"I have seen indications recently that irrationality could enter into a certain nation's decision to launch an attack," White told Sen. Everett S. Allmon (R-Mass.).

The four-star Air Force chief of staff said that earlier this year he was convinced that United States defenses were so strong "that no rational decision could be made to attack us."

He said an attacking nation would face destruction from our deterrents.

"What would be a deterrent to a rational point of view might not be a deterrent to an irrational point of view," White said.

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM), presiding at hearings on a 39-billion-dollar defense money bill, asked White just what deterrents could be stepped up quickly.

White said probably the easiest would be adding two more squadrons of Atlas missiles. These are the ocean-spanning nuclear missiles which now are becoming operational.

Commencement Speaker Named

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Oklahoma Gov. J. Howard Edmondson was named today as commencement speaker for the College of the Ozarks' May 29 ceremonies.

The 34-year-old Edmondson is the nation's youngest governor. Ozarks will award him an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Management, Labor Talk Over Problem

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Top-level labor-management men met today to decide how to begin an effort to work out mutual problems and reported "we had a completely amicable and reasonable discussion."

The statement was made by AFL-CIO President George Meany with the approval of Randolph Bannow of the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

The group met at the suggestion of President Eisenhower to lay plans for a series of talks on industrial peace.

The series of talks will include efforts to agree on better industrial relations policies and such national policies as curbing inflation, increasing output and spurring economic growth.

The group plans another meeting, probably not for six weeks or two months because of prior commitments by individual conferees.

ANXIOUS — WEARING EXPRESSIONS OF anxiety and concern, Parisians listen to radio announcement telling of the collapse of the summit conference in Paris. At his farewell news conference, Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev, almost incoherent with rage at repeated boos from the audience, said that further American "spies" flights over Russia would lead inevitably to war. Faubus Says He Is Still 'Building'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gov. Orval E. Faubus declared today that "we're still building while my opponents are talking."

The comment was in obvious reference to criticism of his administration by the four men who are running against him for a fourth term.

The scheduled dedication of a $230,000 children's building at State Hospital later today gave the governor the opportunity for the verbal thrust.

Joe C. Hardin, one of the Faubus opponents, started a hand-shaking tour at Hot Springs, and was immediately confronted with the question of Garland County gambling.

Hardin said he would favor a local option election to determine whether residents of the Hot Springs area want legalized gambling.

It now is illegal under state law but usually is carried on openly in Hot Springs.

H. E. Williams, another Faubus opponent, was attending a college executives meeting at Conway, his Little Rock headquarters reported.

Williams is president of Southwestern Baptist College at Walnut Ridge.

Ellis Ramsey, Williams' campaign manager, said he would represent the candidate at a political gathering at Humphrey tonight.

He said Williams would be unable to attend because of a conflicting engagement.

Faubus' office said the governor might also be at the Humphrey meeting but that this wasn't certain.

Ramsey said Williams had decided not to participate in an hour-long telecast over Little Rock television station KTHV on May 27.

Like Hardin, who declined yesterday, Williams thought it was too early in the campaign for such a program, to which all candidates were invited.

Faubus said today he wasn't certain whether he would be on the program.

The remaining two candidates — Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett and Hal Millsap Jr. — Haven't said.

Bennett's office said he was campaigning in south Arkansas today and would make a non-political speech at a Bearden school tonight.

There was no report from Millsap, the Sileam Springs grocer, who is touring through Arkansas in a special bus in behalf of his campaign.

Lisbon Welcomes Ike, Khrushchev Calms a Bit in East Germany

Nikita Insists Policy Peaceful Coexistence

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev flew into East Berlin today from the wrecked summit talks, saying the Soviet Union will stick to a policy of seeking "peaceful coexistence."

But, looking serious, the Soviet Premier returned to the attack on the United States in an airport speech. He declared circles that wanted to apply the law of the jungle had regained the upper hand in the United States.

"The government of the United States made the summit conference impossible," he said. "But the questions which were to have been discussed there have not lost their significance. These include the conclusion of a peace treaty with the Germans and a solution of the problem of Berlin which is connected therewith."

"In view of the new situation, we have to talk with Comrades Ulbricht and Grotewohl. I think that the upcoming exchange of views will be useful for the peace of Europe."

Khrushchev made no new threats against West Berlin but said he was going to talk the Berlin problem over with East German Communist leaders.

Before leaving Paris, Khrushchev reiterated his statement that he would attend another summit meeting "if the United States clears away the obstacles which prevented the present conference from going ahead." This was a reference to his demand for an apology from President Eisenhower for the U2 incident.

In his arrival speech in East Berlin, Khrushchev did not repeat his demand that the United States apologize for the incident. He was extremely careful not to stir fears among the Berlin population.

To Rebuild Boys School Dorm

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A new $76,000 dormitory, built to replace a building in which 21 youths died by fire, will be dedicated Sunday at the Negro Boys Industrial School at nearby Wrightsville.

The new structure has a capacity of 120 persons. It will house all 123 boys now enrolled in the school.

Last March 6 a pre-dawn fire razed one of the school's two dormitories, killing 21 of the 69 youths who were locked in the building. The other old dormitory has been converted into classrooms.

Allies to Work Harder Toward Peace, Ike Says

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the wrecking of the summit conference means "we must tighten our belts, keep our chin up" and work harder for peace with justice and freedom.

He spoke informally shortly after receiving a rousing, heart-warming welcome from 250,000 staunchly anti-Communist Portuguese upon arrival here for an overnight stop.

"There is no reason to be dismayed or disheartened. We have had these conditions before in dealing with the Soviets," he said. "Rather than be dismayed we must tighten our belts, keep our chin up and each of us work a little harder for the great cause of peace with justice and freedom."

Eisenhower spoke to U.S. Embassy workers and members of the U.S. military mission here after riding in an open car through streets lined by thousands of cheering, waving Portuguese.

Crowds showered the presidential procession with confetti from office windows and balconies. Skyrockets exploded all along the line of march from the airport to downtown Lisbon. Cannons boomed a 21-gun salute.

Eisenhower looked tired after the failure of the summit conference, which he had said before leaving Paris had joined the Western Allies "even closer" than before in a determined pursuit of peace with justice in the world.

But despite the gloomy prospects in an anxious world, the President grinned broadly and waved his hat in reply to the cheers of the crowds.

He quickly responded to the warmth after the Soviet chill at the summit.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference he believed the President "feels that it is nice to get away from that sort of stuff." This was an allusion to the tactics of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Paris.

Hagerty recalled he had said in Paris that Eisenhower was "completely disgusted and fed up with the antics and tactics of Khrushchev."

The President arrived from Paris by special jet for an overnight visit before flying on to Washington Friday.

Recalling that he had visited Portugal in 1951, the President told President Americo Rodrigues Tormaz and the nation's strongman ruler for 32 years, Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar:

"In coming to Portugal I feel once more that I am visiting old friends. Since the founding of the United States the relationships between the two countries have been happy."

"From the outset we have worked together without a single difference of opinion. Today, as members of the United Nations and as partners in NATO, we continue to work together in the common cause of peace and justice for all men."

Crowds six and eight deep lined the route of the presidential procession through the capital to Que.

Gromyko to Push Spy Plane Before UN

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko is due here Friday night to take personal command in pressing Soviet charges on American spy flights over the Soviet Union.

Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev told newsmen today that Gromyko sent advance word of his arrival from Paris. The Soviet ambassador said the Soviet Union would submit a resolution at the first meeting of the Security Council.

In requesting the meeting, Gromyko demanded that the 11-nation council take measures to stop the spy flights. He called the request from Paris Wednesday night after the summit conference broke down. The four Communist diplomats are a veteran of cold war wrangling at the U.N.

The Russians charged the U.S. Air Force with aggressive flights against the Soviet Union, creating a threat to universal peace.

Sobolev met today with U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and said his delegation had not yet set a specific date for the council session. But in any event the Russians got the jump on a U.S. proposal for international aerial inspection against surprise attack.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviets pressed today for a speedy U.N. Security Council meeting on American spy flights over the Soviet Union to get the jump on a U.S. proposal for international aerial inspection against surprise attack.

With the collapse of the summit conference, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko rushed a telegram from Paris Wednesday night asking an emergency session of the council. The Soviets charged the U.S. Air Force with aggressive flights against the Soviet Union, creating a threat to universal peace.

Newport Senior Crushed to Death

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — Wayne Lee Pharris, a 17-year-old senior at Newport High School, was crushed to death beneath a falling automobile late yesterday.

Pharris was working under the car at his home 10 miles east of Newport when the vehicle slipped off a jack.

The boy's body was discovered by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Pharris, when they returned home from a visit to Newport.

Pharris' survivors also include two sisters and a brother.

He would have graduated from high school on June 2.

No Reported Damage From State Storms

Two tornado funnels were sighted over Arkansas last night but they apparently did not touch the ground. There was no reported tornado damage.

The twisters appeared near Morrilton and Hot Springs during a series of violent thunderstorms which buffeted a wide portion of the state. A storm damaged several houses and destroyed a barn and a number of outbuildings in the Hagersville community near Clarksville.

Heavy rains delayed all except the extreme southern part of the state. Rainfall measurements ranged up to 3.86 inches at Mount Ida. Even the south got some rain, with a measurement of .08 at El Dorado.

The tornado sightings—one five miles north of Morrilton and the other three miles south of Hot Springs on U.S. Highway 70 — were confirmed by the Weather Bureau.

Turbulent weather broke a siege of high temperatures in the northern half of the state. Last night's lows ranged from 61 at Fayetteville to 75 at Texarkana, which had only .31 inch of rain.

Minor Damage in Wreck Here

Automobiles driven by Mrs. W. D. Henry, Hope and Mrs. George Brown of Hope, collided yesterday on East Third Street with minor bumper and trunk damage to the Brown vehicle. City Officer Rowe placed a charge of driving too close against Mrs. Henry.

Dedicates Hospital for Children

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus dedicated a $230,000 children's building at the State Hospital today and he took advantage of the occasion to remark: "We are still building while my opponents are talking."

The reference was to criticism of his administration by four candidates opposing Faubus' bid for a fourth term Democratic nomination.

Discussing the campaign with newsmen, Faubus said he has not made up his mind whether he will appear on a scheduled May 27 telecast to watch all five Democratic candidates have been invited.

One candidate, Joe C. Hardin of Grady, already has notified the sponsoring station, KTHV, he will not take part.

In his dedication speech, Faubus said he was glad the children's building had been completed.

"It is a relief to me because while the children were housed in the old structure, I was in constant fear the building would collapse," he said.

Youth Admits Setting Fires

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A 10-year-old boy has admitted setting eight minor fires here during the past month. Fire Inspector R. E. VanTuyke said yesterday.

VanTuyke said the child has been turned over to juvenile authorities who put him under psychiatric treatment.

The fires were located in a two-block area in the Rose City section.

liz Palace, where Eisenhower is staying.
The President and his hosts rode in an open Rolls Royce surrounded by Republican House Guards in blue tunics and white breachers.

Eisenhower looked tired but he had a wide grin as he waved to the crowds.

While outwardly cheerful and smiling, he did not try to hide his disappointment at the fiasco of the East-West talks that never really got started.

Just before leaving Paris, Eisenhower made his first public comment on the collapse of the conference. But he made no attempt to answer the insults heaped on him and the United States by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"I share the disappointment of my colleagues that, because of our inability to convene the summit conference, we could make no progress for easing the tensions which so plague mankind," he said in a statement at Paris' Orly Airport.

"But I fully share their confidence that because of this setback, we of the Western Allies,
and particularly France, Britain and the United States, both through their people, are joined even closer than before in determined pursuit of peace with justice in the world."

Eisenhower's state visit to Portugal kept a date he had made before he set off from Washington for the heads of government conference in Paris. He had originally expected to make the visit Monday and Tuesday, but the summit collapse advanced the schedule.

GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN—The Mississippi River has retreated within its banks. Spring floods had forced its waters into the fields and streets of the river towns. One pipe-smoking observer in Alton, Ill., looks at the debris the river left.

led her when he'd ridden home
from one night excursion an hour ago, only to start out on another.
Clear, though, was the picture of him pacing the dimly lighted kitchen, words tumbling from him as his father snored in the pattio beyond. She'd backed food while Duke talked.

She faced forward again, flicking the reins and lifting the horse to a trot.

Ahead a cutbank loomed. She did not see the rider in its shadow until she was almost upon him, and then she made out a tall, heavy-shouldered form sitting a saddle. The man might have been Duke himself, except that Duke was heading toward the Carnel Hills, so the name that leaped into her mind was Riley Buckner's. She almost shouted it.
She knew then how close to the edge of her thinking Ry had lingered lately, ever since the news a month ago that he was out of Deer Lodge. But now the man moved his horse toward her, blocking her, and she realized he wasn't Riley. He reached out a hand and grasped her bridle.

"Miss Lane?" he asked, peering at her. "Where you going?"
She knew him now—Abe Lofstrum, one of the dozen or so Hatchet riders. He was like Duke and Ry only in build, for he was a dozen years older. Her voice light, she said, "I'm going to town. Let me by."

"Easy, now," he said. "I got a couple of questions. Is Duke back there at the house?"
"Take your hand off that bridle," she said. "I don't have to answer your questions!"

His voice hardened. "Hatchet isn't owing Boxed J any politeness tonight. You'll answer me,
miss, or I'll wring it out of you."

She brought her quirt up and lashed at his face. He shied back, releasing his hold. She struck at him again, then brought the quirt hard against the rump of her horse. The mount bolted forward. She heard Lofstrum shout at her. She galloped hard, flogging the horse again and again.

She looked over her shoulder but couldn't be sure whether Lofstrum was in pursuit. She bent low over the saddlehorn and raced on, holding to this pace till the horse began to flag. She looked back again. No sign of the Hatchet rider.

She panted in relief, but she knew why he had given up the chase, and the thought troubled her. He wasn't concerned with her; he was watching for Duke.
His job was to guard the road to town, to see that Duke didn't take that road; and so he hadn't risked chasing her and thus leaving the backtrail open. Well, he'd wait in vain for Duke to come this way; but the point remained that if one trail was already guarded, so, too, might be the others.

She rode on. She had turned wary of every shadow, suspicious of every tree or rock big enough to hide a rider. She galloped the horse at intervals and begrudged the periods when she had to pull the mount back to a walk. At last she came into Signal, following the road until it became Bol-tom Street, the town's main thoroughfare which straggled along the V sides of the slopes.

Nearly midnight, she guessed,
and only a few lights showing.
The moon rode clear now, and she could see horses at the hitch-rail before the Frontier Bar further along, but she didn't continue on Boltom Street. Instead, she turned up a cross street climbing the north slope and swung from her saddle before the smug cottage of Oliver Landers,
the county clerk.

Light fell from Landers' parlor window upon his neat yard, and when she let herself through the gate she glimpsed the man, his small body curled in a chair, a book in his lap.

He looked astonished when he opened the door to her knock.
"Why, it's Dorcas Lane," he said.
"What are you doing out at this hour?"

She'd known him since her childhood; she could remember when his muttonchop whiskers had been a sandy brown instead of gray. "Oliver," she said, "I want you to go to the courthouse with me. Tonight. I want to buy a marriage license."

He chuckled, peering at her there on the porch. He was a bachelor and an incurable romanticist, and in her estimation of a fool. "You and Duke, I assume," he said. "Can't it wait till tomorrow?"

"Oliver, it can't wait," she said.
"Please, Oliver!"

She knew she was a pretty girl; she knew this without conceit. Also, she knew how pliable almost any man might be if she coached her pleas in the right tone. She saw him hesitate, then soften. She had won. "Just a minute till I get my coat," he said. He chuckled again. "All you young folks are alike. The rest of us know months in advance that you're going to get hitched
but once you make up your own minds, you'd think the world was coming to an end the next day."

in profusion.

But plans for Khrushchev to address a mass meeting in East Berlin's central square soon after his arrival were changed. The official East German radio announced Wednesday night he would speak instead indoors on Friday afternoon.

Some 250,000 persons might have been crowded into the Marx-Engels Platz for Khrushchev's first speech since the collapse of the summit conference. The Werner Seelenbinder Hall where he will speak holds only about 5,000.

No reason was given for the change.

Presumably Khrushchev's main business in East Berlin will be to discuss his future strategy on German issues with the Communist Party boss, Walter Ul-bricht, and Premier Otto Grotwohl.

There was still no expectation
the Soviet Premier and the East German Red leaders would sign the World War II peace treaty between the Soviet Union and the East German government which Khrushchev so often has threatened. But the general belief that any peace treaty would be preceded by a peace conference of

Gromyko to

a newsman he would decide today
when to schedule the meeting.

A council delegate said the Soviets wanted the meeting Friday or Saturday, obviously to hold the propaganda stage without competition from the open skies proposal.
President Eisenhower said the United States would submit to the U.N. But it appeared unlikely a meeting would be arranged before Monday.

The U.S. delegate, Henry Cabot Lodge, planned to go to Washington for weekend consultations with the President and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Sources in a position to know
said the United States made no effort to beat the Soviet Union
to the punch before the U.N.
These sources said the United States wants to avoid any spirit of altercation.

Diplomats at the U.N. privately expressed doubt that the Soviet Union could get the seven votes needed to push a resolution condemning the United States through the council. Only Poland is expected to join the Soviets in voting for the resolution. There was speculation the other nine members would either vote against it or abstain. These nine are Britain, France, Nationalist China, Argentina, Ceylon, Ecuador, Italy,
Tunisia and the United States.

In turn the Soviet Union seems sure to veto any U.S. proposal for aerial inspection. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev rejected the proposal during the abortive summit conference in Paris.

Misses No Chance for Political Job

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus took advantage of the dedication of a $230,000 children's building at the State Hospital to remark today, "We're still building while my opponents are talking."

The dedication was scheduled for this afternoon with Faubus as the principal speaker.

Faubus' comment to newsmen referred to criticism of his administration by four candidates opposing his bid for a fourth term.

Faubus said he was glad the children's building had been completed.
"It is a relief to me because while the children were housed in the old structure, I was in constant fear it would collapse," he said.

McClellan to Speak

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — Sen.
John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) will speak at the Southern State College commencement May 30. A total of 122 persons are candidates for degrees.

Communist nations was put in doubt by Khrushchev's remarks
at his news conference in Paris Wednesday.

The Soviet Premier said the peace treaty draft had been prepared and would be signed "when we consider the time to be right."
"We will sit down and sign the peace treaty and then announce it to the world," he declared.
Khrushchev made clear at the news conference that his aim to drive the Western allies out of West Berlin has not changed since he first raised the issue in November, 1958.

THE STORY: Gully Jordan,
Boxed J owner, realizes that because he is 72, his son Duke thinks he's too old to run the ranch. Dorcas, Duke's fiancée, has ridden off, leaving him alone.

Dorcas Lane rode toward Signal and turned in her saddle for a long look back. House and bunkhouse and barn lay formless; and lost in that same shrouding darkness and traveling his own trail in another direction would be Duke. Duke riding in fear and shock. She shook her head, not wanting to think of Duke and his danger. Worry wouldn't make for a clear mind.

Until this moment, she realized, she'd been too busy to give full thought to what Duke had Fidel Castro talked for 2 hours.

Hempstead County 4-H Club Council Meets

The Hempstead County 4-H Club Council met in the courtroom of the county courthouse on Saturday morning, May 7. The meeting was presided over by Calvin Caldwell, County Agent, who discussed a forestry camp to be held July 11-15 and a summer camp to be held July 21.

It was decided to have Demonstration Day June 11. Mrs. Joann Phillips, County Home Demonstration Agent, explained that a Dress Review and Baking Contest would be held on June 25. According to Mr. Caldwell, a Tractor Driving Contest will also be held June 25. Six leaders and 17 club members representing the Victory 4-H Club, the Shover Springs 4-H Club, and the DeAnn 4-H Club were at the meeting. The next meeting will be on July 16, and a good attendance is needed as officers for the coming year will be elected at that time.

V.F.W. Auxiliary Meets With Mrs. Thomas B. Fenwick, Jr.

The home of Mrs. Thomas B. Fenwick, Jr. was the scene of a meeting of the V.F.W. Auxiliary on Tuesday night, May 17. It was the first meeting over which the new president, Mrs. Bob Mas-singill, had charge.

After a business meeting, a program on "Cancer" was presented by Mrs. Henry Fenwick. For refreshments cookies and cold drinks were served to the members.

Junior Climbers Garden Club Meets

The Junior Climbers Garden Club met May 17 in the school gym at Washington. The president, Margaret Etter opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer and the Club Pledge repeated in unison. The secretary, Linda Hulsey called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting.

Mrs. J. O. Luck installed the officers for the new year 1960-61. The officers are as follows: President, Linda Luck; Vice-president, Patricia Webb; Secretary, Marilyn Hamilton; and Reporter, Sheila Powers.

Mrs. J. O. Luck gave an interesting program on the legend of roses.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. T. A. Hulsey, Mrs. J. T. Boyette, and Mrs. J. O. Luck.

Hope Lilac Garden Club Meets at Diamond

For their last meeting of the club year the Lilac Garden Club of Hope had a breakfast at the Diamond on May 18. Magnolias decorated the mantle in the Green Room where the breakfast meeting was held.

After a delicious meal, Mrs. Herbert Stephens presented a program on "Birds," illustrated, in part, by a bird feeder brought by Mrs. Harold Stephens. The latter Mrs. Stephens, club president, conducted the business meeting.

New officers adopted unanimously are: president, Mrs. B. W. Edwards; vice president, Mrs. Loyd Kinard; secretary, Mrs. Herbert Stephens; and treasurer, Mrs. Pat Casey.

Pink roses graced the serving table where covers were laid for 18. These included Mrs. J. C. Carlton, honorary member, and Mrs. Brooks of Blevins. Hostesses were Mrs. N. P. Nesbitt, Mrs. Harold Stephens, Mrs. Herbert Stephens, Mrs. P. C. Stephens, and Mrs. Mildred Trotter.

Mrs. R. T. White Hostess to Tuesday Bridge Club

Mrs. R. T. White entertained her Tuesday Bridge Club on May 17. Scoring high for the two tables of players was Mrs. Lyle Brown, and Mrs. R. L. Broach. Bridge guests of the club were Miss Katherine Arnold of Jonesboro, Mrs. J. D. Barlow, and Mrs. Roy Anderson.

An ice course was served for refreshments. At that time other

DOROTHY DIX

Unwed Mother Seeks Advice

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I am the mother of four children though not married legally. Ever since the first baby was on the way, the man I live with promised he would marry me. He is an only child who can't seem to take responsibilities. We live with his mother and father. He acts as though he's afraid of his parents. His mother wrote her sisters that pretty girls want to marry him. I let her sisters know we weren't married. They told his parents to see that he married me. Should I leave him? I would carry the children with me. It may be hard to get work.

Dear G.: Think of your children. Insist that their father marry you. If he continues to procrastinate, appeal to your minister, doctor, or the nearest Domestic Relations Court.

The way of a nameless child is hard. Your chances for happiness are better if you and your man establish a home of your own. Don't weaken. You'll be put upon as long as you allow yourself to be.

Dear Dorothy Dix: What does a boy have a right to expect from a girl in the matter of love-making, when they are engaged and love each other dearly? I have done nothing wrong but I do want to know. — Just Wondering

Dear Just Wondering: Move the calendar up 15 or 20 years. Suppose your daughter was the girl involved. What would your answer be?

To want to kiss your girl is normal. If she loves you, she'll respond. But you must be strong for her as well as yourself. To be otherwise is to completely change your relationship. In the changing you'll both lose something of the magic that is part of young love.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I was going steady with a boy. I was really crazy about. About a week later he started acting strange and distant. We broke up. I still love him but he seems to hate me.

Other boys have been asking me out; I go but I can't forget the other boy and long for him. What should I do and how should I act toward my ex-steady? I have not enclosed an envelope because I don't want my parents to know I have written you. Please answer my question in your column. — Heartbroken

Dear Heartbroken: Hold your head high and go on without him. Chasing won't bring him back. Should he look you up, give him a taste of his own medicine.

I'm troubled by that final paragraph in your letter. Why shouldn't your parents know that you have written me? Tell me! Perhaps I can help you and them to a better understanding.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

A Nervous World Awaits Developments

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

PARIS (AP)—A nervous world faced a dangerously uncertain future today as hostile chiefs of the United States and the Soviet Union turned away from the East-West battle at the summit to plan their strategies for new cold war conflict.

All hope of a quick cooling of tempers and slow rebuilding of hostile relations between Washington and Moscow was dashed—buried under a new barrage of insults hurled by Nikita Khrushchev at President Eisenhower.

To Western diplomats surveying the wreckage of the Big Four conference and the violence of the Soviet Premier's news conference Wednesday, the future looked ominous.

A breakdown of disarmament negotiations, a new crisis over Berlin, a return to bitter propaganda warfare, and Red China flare-up in the Far East were all regarded as possible.

Eisenhower, who scorned to reply at once to Khrushchev's slashing assault, plans to make a TV-radio report on the summit disaster to the American people soon after he gets home Friday. He is returning by way of Lisbon, Portugal.

The Soviet Premier arranged his homeward journey to Moscow through East Berlin. The German Communist regime planned a rally for him there Friday, giving him a forum for a new tirade against the United States.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, the last of the visiting government heads to say farewell to French President Charles de Gaulle, reports to the House of Commons Friday on the total failure of his summit policy. He had worked persistently for several years to bring the Big Four together again, as they had met at Geneva in 1955.

Macmillan's confident hope was that a meeting at the summit, even without very concrete results, would improve personal relations among the leaders, advance disarmament negotiations, and ease world tensions. He got exactly the opposite result. Khrushchev Wednesday heaped all blame for the failure on Eisenhower, and his refusal to publicly condemn U.S. spy flights over the Soviet Union, in a massive international news conference punctuated by both boos and cheers, he called Eisenhower an aggressor, a fishy friend, deceitful and likened him to a thief.

Peach Grower at Clarksville Dies

Hardin Runs Into Issue of Gambling

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Joe C. Hardin of Grady launched a get-acquainted tour of Hot Springs today and promptly was faced with the question of gambling in Garland County.

Asked if he would favor legalized gambling here, the gubernatorial candidate said "I would favor a local option election to determine whether the people want gambling. The people should decide a question like that."

Hardin said he wanted to be realistic about the gambling question.

"Anyone who knows this state realizes that Hot Springs is different," he said. "It is not in competition with other Arkansas cities but with resorts in other parts of the country."

Gambling is against state law but it is practiced openly in Garland County. Attempts to legalize the practice have met with no success in recent legislatures.

Hardin said he planned to spend all of today shaking hands here.

The former-businessman said he expects a bitter campaign because "emotional issues have been injected into the race. Emotional matters always cause the most bitterness." He referred to the integration question.

Hardin was accompanied by his wife and Joe Lyford of Little Rock, who Hardin said would be in charge of county campaign organization.

Two Others to Die in Hamm Slaying

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—Two young Negroes go to their death in the state's electric chair early tomorrow for a four-year-old robbery slaying.

Two companions died in the chair last Friday morning. James A. Boyd, 21, and William Henry Byrd, 22, are scheduled to die tomorrow.

The two electrocuted last Friday were James Matthew Moore, 22, and Rogers Boone, 27.

The four were convicted and sentenced to death for the fatal beating of M. B. Hamm, a 76-year-old white man, near Texarkana on May 9, 1956.

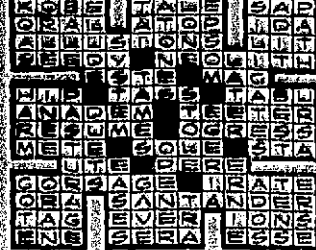

Various legal maneuvers delayed their execution.

The office of lieutenant governor was provided for in a referendum of September 14, 1914, but it was not until 1927 that the first lieutenant governor took office.

McDougald's Homer Wins for Yankees

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer.
Gil McDougald's three-run homer for the New York Yankees Wednesday night beat Cleveland 4-2, and the win was New York's first victory in four tries against the Tribe. The win jumped the Yankees past the Indians into third place in the American League race.

Chicago's White Sox, still unbeaten at home in eight games, retained a half-game lead with a 6-5 decision over Boston. Baltimore reclaimed second place by defeating Kansas City 5-4 on Jackie Brandt's ninth-inning homer. Washington finally won one from Detroit, beating the Tigers 3-0 in 11 innings as Camilo Pascual ran his shutout string to 26 innings, longest in the majors this season.

In the National League, Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 4-2 and gained a first place tie with San Francisco. The Giants were beaten 3-1 at Milwaukee by the third-place Braves, who trail the leaders by four games. Fourth place Cincinnati, also four games behind, beat Los Angeles 5-4 in 12 innings. The other NL game, Chicago at Philadelphia, was rained out.

McDougald's third homer was all the Yankees needed behind Ralph Terry's eight-hit, eight-inning pitching. McDougald's shot, followed a walk and Elston Howard's single in the second inning off losing rookie Wynn Hawkins (3-3).

Winning reliever Gerry Staley (4-1) got the clinching run home for the White Sox with a sacrifice fly in the sixth. They had come from behind against loser Frank Sullivan with four runs in bottom of the fifth, two on Minnie Miros's two-out double.

Gene Woodling's two-run double tied it 4-4 in the seventh for Baltimore. Brandt then tagged losing reliever Leo Kieley (1-1) for his fourth homer. Rookie Steve Barber (3-1) won it in relief.

Jim Lemon's one-run homer won it for the Senators in a three-run 11th against reliever Dave Slicker (1-1) after they had been blanked on six hits for 10 innings by Jim Bunning. It was Lemon's ninth home run, tying Milwaukee's Hank Aaron for the major league lead.

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables

By John Alden Knight

The schedule of Solunar periods as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major periods are shown in bold face type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The minor periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Fight Results

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chicago — Eddie Perkins, 137, Chicago, outpointed Paulo Rosti, 134, New York, 10.

73,160 on Welfare
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A total of 73,160 persons received some form of public assistance in May. Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams said this was a drop of 404 from April, but up 348 over March.

HORIZONTAL SLANT—Rory Calhoun, veteran New York middleweight, strikes a horizontal pose of his arms as at San Francisco's Cow Palace as Hammering Henry Hamon of Philadelphia landed a hard punch. The fight was stopped in second round.

Rosi Thinks He Trained Too Hard

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—Paolo Rosi, erstwhile No. 2 lightweight contender, may have left his fight in the gym before tangle with unranked Eddie Perkins in the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

"My legs, they just don't want to go, maybe I trained too hard," ruefully explained Rosi, a 9-5 favorite, after he dropped a unanimous 10-round decision to 23-year-old Perkins of Chicago in a nationally-televised bout.

It was just a year ago that Rosi from the Bronx, N. Y., gave lightweight champion Joe Brown a stiff battle before losing in the ninth round on a TKO because of cuts in a title match.

But Wednesday night, Rosi never got untracked against the aggressive Perkins.

Perkins really had the right against Rosi, who was missing wave length in his punching badly and won only four rounds on the cards of all three officials. One official, Judge Harold Marovitz, didn't give a round to Rosi, awarding six to Perkins and calling four even.

Perkins, winning his 18th bout against 7 losses, weighed 137. Rosi, suffering his 6th defeat against 31 victories and 1 draw, scaled 134.

Referee Joey White voted for Perkins 40-44. Judge John Bray also saw it for Perkins 40-44 and Judge Marovitz liked the Chicago boxer 50-44.

Rickey Wants New Baseball League

WASHINGTON (AP)—Branch Rickey, president of the new Continental League, told Congress today its success would be "the salvation of the national game in America" at a time when minor league baseball "is on the rocks."

He urged enactment of proposed legislation that would give the fledgling league a chance to draft many players controlled by American and National League clubs.

Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick, who has criticized the proposed legislation, was slated to be a later witness.

Appearing with Rickey before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee were William A. Shea, New York attorney who is one of the new league's founders, and Edwin C. Johnson, former Colorado governor and senator, a consultant to Continental.

The subcommittee's chairman, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) has introduced the bill.

Shea said the owners of the 16 present major league clubs are "the absolute dictators of organized baseball," and have slowed to a "virtual crawl the progress of our league toward realization."

Johnson, former president of the Western League, said he had come to cheer what he called its heroic efforts "to end the cruel monopoly in professional baseball that has reduced minor league clubs to poverty and handouts."

"Cities ready for major league ball," Johnson said, "have been dismissed with arrogant sneers and double talk."

Demands Drug Official Resign Post

By JOE F. KANE
WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has demanded the resignation of a federal drug official who reportedly received more than a quarter of a million dollars from outside activities involving firms his office polices.

Sensors heard testimony Wednesday that the $237,242.40 received by Dr. Henry Welch since 1953 came primarily from the sale of reprints of scientific articles used to advertise and promote drug products.

Welch, head of the Food and Drug Administration's antibiotics division, had told his superiors that he was receiving an "honorarium" for the outside work — without saying how much money he got.

Within hours after the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee heard its staff investigators present a financial accounting of Welch's outside work, Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming asked for Welch's resignation.

Flemming said Welch had deliberately misled his superiors "in receiving compensation far beyond what is the commonly accepted concept of an honorarium."

Welch, reported suffering from a heart ailment, earlier had applied for disability retirement effective June 1. He was paid $17,500 annually in his government job.

Welch did not attend Wednesday's hearing and was not immediately available for comment.

Senate investigators have been looking into drug pricing practices.

Arkansans Get Fellowships

NEW YORK (AP)—Four Arkansans are among 30 recipients of fellowships from the News-Paper Fund, Inc., financed by grants from the Wall Street Journal.

The fellowships are to assist high school newspaper advisers and journalism teachers by making possible summer study in universities and colleges.

Arkansans and the colleges they selected are: Claude W. Summerlin, Arkadelphia, Onachita Baptist School, University of Missouri; Mrs. Ellen H. West, DeWitt, High School, Indiana University Seminar; Mrs. Mary Nell Turner, Hope High School, University of Oklahoma; Mrs. Ruby Monroe Haynes, Jonesboro High School, University of Missouri.

Jaycees to Meet

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—More than 500 persons are expected for a four-day convention of the Arkansas Junior Chamber of Commerce, which begins here today. The Arkansas Jayceettes will meet in conjunction with the convention.

New officers will be elected Saturday.

Reds Are Jamming

LONDON (AP)—The British Broadcasting Corp. said today jamming of its Russian language service had increased notably. The Russians stepped up jamming of voice of America broadcasts after they shot down the American spy plane on May Day.

EARLY LESSON—Coach Joe Kuharich, left, uses his seven-year-old son, Billy, to illustrate to Capt. Myron Pottios and the Notre Dame squad that a player can't start too young.

Three Killed in L. R. Accident

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A car collided head-on with a heavy cement truck on a sharp curve yesterday, killing a Clinton couple and their son.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Hutson and their son, Richard, 14, occupants of the car. Another son, Larry, 12, escaped with an arm injury.

Authorities said it took about 30 minutes to remove the bodies from the smashed automobile.

The empty trailer truck was driven by Edward W. Patterson, 32, of Camden. He was not hurt.

Man Leaps to Death

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Police said that Ira E. Clarke, 50, of Jonesboro, leaped 60 feet to his death from a railroad overpass shortly after noon today.

Officers said Clarke, who worked as a hotel desk clerk until a few weeks ago, drove his automobile to the bridge over the Frisco and Cotton Belt tracks, clambered on to the railing and jumped.

Clarke died at a hospital about 40 minutes later.

No note was found.

Brave Bombing Finally Gains Some Ground

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Milwaukee's bombing Braves finally have gained some ground in that National League race — and they did it while being held without a home run for the first time in two weeks.

Using singles and doubles Wednesday night the Braves scored a 3-1 decision over San Francisco that handed southpaw Mike McCormick his first defeat and left the Giants in a first place tie with Pittsburgh. The Pirates gained a share of the lead by beating St. Louis 4-2. It was Pittsburgh's seventh victory in eight games.

Cincinnati defeated Los Angeles 5-4 in 12 innings in the only other game played in the NL. Chicago's game at Philadelphia was rained out.

In the American League, Chicago's White Sox retained a half-game lead by beating Boston 6-5. Baltimore reclaimed second with a 5-4 victory at Kansas City while New York climbed past Cleveland into third place with a 4-2 decision over the Indians. Washington defeated Detroit 3-0 in 11 innings.

The Braves beat McCormick, who won his first five, with a seventh inning run that broke a 1-1 tie. Reliever Don McMahon then saved it by getting Willie McCovey on a fly to center with the bases loaded in the ninth. Bob Rush (2-0) won it.

Right-hander Vern Law, who has lost one, became the first six-game winner in the majors, going all the way with a nine-inning shutout against St. Louis. The Cards, with manager Solly Hemus rumored on the way out, were blanked on six hits until the ninth while losing for the 14th time in 16 road games. Pittsburgh scored twice in the first, then nailed it with two in the seventh against ex-Pirate Ron Kline (1-3).

Frank Robinson made it 4-0 in the 10th with his two-run homer off losing Dodger reliever Danny McDevitt (0-1).

Bill Henry (1-1) won it with one inning of relief after Jay Hook gave up 10 hits and four runs but fanned 10 in 11 frames.

Cardinals Sign La. Tech Star

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals today announced the signing of Charles H. Garris of Wesson, (Union County) Ark., Louisiana Tech star sought by at least seven other major league clubs.

Garris, 6-foot-2, 205 pound outfielder, was signed by scout Fred Hawn to a Tulsa contract and will report to the Texas League club June 3. He batted .406 and led the Gulf State Conference with 4 homers in 23 games this season.

Says Talks in Accord With FCC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorney Thomas G. Corcoran told House investigators today that his office's record talks with the Federal Power Commission were in full conformity with FCC regulations.

Breaking an almost two-month silence on the talks, Corcoran, confidential adviser to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, swore that his visit to three FCC members during a 52-million dollar pipeline case were not secret.

"They were carried out publicly on the commission's premises, in the commission's offices. Every commissioner knew of my visit to each other commissioner," Corcoran said.

Corcoran, whose private talks touched off a congressional inquiry into whether improper influence has been exerted on the FCC, testified before the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee.

Corcoran contacted the three FCC members just before the commission granted a Corcoran client permission last Oct. 31 to import gas from Canada.

For seven days the subcommittee has been questioning FCC members about Corcoran's off-the-record chats with three commission members.

FCC Chairman Jerome R. Kuykendall has testified that he considered a telephone call from Corcoran last October improper. Other commissioners have said they had to caution Corcoran against improper discussion of cases pending before the FCC.

Corcoran is general counsel for the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., that firm owns Midwestern Gas Transmission Co., which the FCC authorized in that case to import gas from Canada.

Says Tax Used to Fight Integration

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Mrs. Daisy Bates, Arkansas president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, has protested that tax money is being used to fight integration in the Dollarway School District near Pine Bluff, Ark.

In Topeka for a speech last night at an observance of the sixth anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court's school desegregation decision she said: "We (The NAACP) are spending our money to gain integration through the courts, but at the same time our tax money is fighting against us."

She made the statement at a news conference.

On March 14 the Arkansas State Board of Education, meeting in Little Rock, voted $5,069.92 to the Dollarway District to reimburse it for legal fees in its integration lawsuit.

The money came from a $100,000 fund set up by the Arkansas General Assembly to help school districts with legal costs in opposing integration.

Much of Mrs. Bates' speech was devoted to the events which led to taken integration of two Little Rock high schools. She was a leader in that controversial proceeding.

She said, "I would like to think that the courageous stand of the Little Rock nine (the first Negroes to enter Central in 1957) sparked the movement, now sweeping the world from Tallahassee (Fla.) to Korea."

She said the Negro, through his own struggles, "has fought his way to the place where he now stands."

Suit to Desegregate City Auditorium

MEMPHIS (AP) — A federal court lawsuit aimed at desegregating the Municipal Auditorium here was on file today.

The suit, brought yesterday by five Negro attorneys, asked that city and county officials be enjoined from continuing segregated practices at auditorium functions. Negroes are admitted to the building but occupy a separate seating section.

The suit was the fourth desegregation suit filed here in recent weeks. The others were brought against the Memphis Board of Education, the City Park Commission, and the D. O. B. House restaurant at Municipal Airport.

Frick Has Backing of All Clubs

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, with the solid backing of major league club owners, goes before a Senate Antitrust subcommittee in Washington Thursday to present baseball's case to Congress.

Frick's argument against proposed federal legislation to govern baseball was given unanimous approval by all 16 major league owners at a Chicago meeting Tuesday.

It was the first meeting attended by all owners in more than 15 years but the only formal action reported taken was approval of Frick's stand against congressional legislation.

The private meeting, which continued for more than five hours, was conducted in the exclusive Chicago Club. Newsmen were not permitted beyond the club's lobby.

John Galbreath, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates who acted as group spokesman in briefing reporters later, said the meeting was held mainly to get the owners acquainted with each other and the problems they face.

Frick, who will present his statement before the subcommittee, has termed a proposal by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) to bring baseball partly under antitrust statutes as "vicious, discriminatory, disastrous and absolutely unacceptable."

The owners discussed all problems within the structure of baseball, said Galbreath, and also mentioned the Continental League "in a passive way."

The Kefauver bill figures to benefit the Continental League because it asks Congress to limit to 100 the number of players a major league club may control.

The bill also stipulates that all except 40 of the 100 players would be subject each year to unlimited draft by all other teams, including those in the Continental League.

Okays Bill to Up Wheat Supports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Agriculture Committee today approved 20-13 a new version of legislation designed to increase wheat price supports and provide a new program for feed grains. The sponsor is Rep. W. R. Ponge (D-Tex.).

The section dealing with wheat is somewhat similar to the wheat bill vetoed last year by President Eisenhower.

This would increase the price supports for wheat from the present level of 75 per cent of parity to 85 per cent and provide for a 25 per cent cut in production. Parity is a legal standard for prices deemed fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

The wheat bill vetoed last year would have raised the support level to 90 per cent of parity along with a 25 per cent cut in production.

The new bill would provide a payment-in-kind for retired wheat land at 55 per cent of normal production. This would come from the record wheat surplus in government hands.

Wheat farmers, subject to marketing quotas on the 1960 crop, would vote before July 25, 1960, on whether they want the new program or unlimited production with the support price at about the feed grain level.

Springer, who faces a Municipal Court hearing on the charges June 17, said he was considering legal action as a result of his arrest on a complaint by three members of an acting board of directors.

The complaint alleged that an audit had discovered a shortage. The acting board is in control of the firm pending settlement of a stockholder's suit filed in chancery court to force the firm into receivership.

Man Denies He Embezzled Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Alan C. Springer of Little Rock, former president of the Arkansas Business Development Corp., says charges that he embezzled $2,250 are "untrue and unfounded."

Strawberry Mist — A Delicious Summer Dessert

Soon the warm weather will be here in earnest and lighter fare will be in order. Your family will enjoy drinking their dessert, especially if it's a refreshing Strawberry Mist. This delightful milk-and-ice cream cooler has luscious fresh strawberries all through and an extra scoop of ice cream on top.

It's more nourishing, too, because you use nonfat dry milk. In this way, you get more milk protein, calcium and B-vitamins without the added liquid. And in warm weather, your family can use extra milk nourishment to rebuild energy.

Serve Strawberry Mists for a delicious climax to patio suppers, for a glamorous treat when friends drop in or to delight children anytime.

Strawberry Mist

- | | |
|--------------------------------------|--|
| 1 1/2 cups Pot Instant (in dry form) | 2 cups sweetened fresh strawberries, sliced (see Note) |
| 1 cup ice cold water | 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind |
| 1 pt. Vanilla Ice Cream | 4 scoops Vanilla Ice Cream |

Put Pot Instant and water into a 2 1/2 quart bowl and stir until dissolved. Add strawberries, ice cream and lemon rind. Beat until smooth. Put scoops of ice cream in 4 glasses and pour in strawberry mixture. Garnish with whole strawberries. Makes 4 servings.

NOTE: One 10-oz. box of frozen strawberries, thawed, may be used in place of fresh strawberries.

Scientists Make Fallout Danger Less

SCIENCE TODAY
By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two scientists capitalized on the fact that human bone absorbs radioactive strontium to create a chemical technique which can make that dangerous element in atomic fallout much less dangerous for people.

Radioactive strontium — 90 is dangerous because it is brought down from the stratosphere by rain. That puts it into vegetation and thence into cows and then into their milk. When people drink the milk their bones absorb greedily any radioactive strontium which is in it, along with calcium and other beneficial minerals.

It occurred to Leon Singer and W. D. Armstrong of the University of Minnesota that this potential evil could be converted into potential good. Why not take advantage of this affinity of bone for strontium by using bone outside the body as a filter?

With pulverized bone, they made filters. They added precisely measured amounts of radioactive strontium to milk and poured the milk through the filters, and up to 75 per cent of the strontium was filtered out of it. But, of course, it wasn't as simple as that makes it sound.

Absorb Other Minerals
You see, the bone chemistry which causes bone to absorb strontium (whether or not it is radioactive) also causes it to absorb other minerals which are among the constituents that make milk such a wonderfully nutritious food.

The problem, then, was to make bone filters which would extract strontium from milk without taking equal amounts of these other minerals out of it. This problem Singer and Armstrong attacked by putting their pulverized bone through chemical treatments.

The idea was to make less an organic substance and more a purely mineral one. They made "anorganic" bone by extracting the proteins, and "fat-free" bone by washing out the fats.

The former as a filter took out 67 per cent of the strontium while removing only a little calcium and potassium. The latter took out 75 per cent of the strontium but removed about one-third of the calcium. The scientists said this deficiency of the best filtering bone could be repaired by adding calcium to filtered milk.

Not A Menace

Their filters were column-shaped. By making the columns longer, even more radioactive strontium should come out, they said. A filtering column could be used indefinitely because — as they demonstrated experimentally — the radioactive strontium accumulated in the filter after one usage can be removed chemically before the filter is used again.

Radioactive strontium and its sister isotope from fallout, radioactive cesium, can be found in milk in most of the northern hemisphere, but in amounts much below those which scientists consider to be menacing. If there is any increase in fallout, however, these amounts would increase.

Various efforts have been made to develop filtering techniques. Previous ones have involved the use of synthetic resins. This would make filtering milk in a quantity difficult. And these methods change the taste. Singer and Armstrong reported that a "taste panel" couldn't distinguish their filtered milk from unfiltered milk.

State Is Set for More Red Raps at U. S.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

PARIS (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev set the stage today for a few blasts at President Eisenhower after final frantic efforts by the West failed to pull the Soviet Premier back to the summit conference table.

Eisenhower and other Western leaders meanwhile began assessing the danger of new cold war crises likely to result from Khrushchev's explosion of personal and official hostility toward the U.S. President.

Western diplomats feared the Soviet leader now would develop an increasingly tough and risky policy toward the United States and its allies. A new Berlin crisis was a possibility. The future of disarmament hopes also was entangled in the wreckage of the summit conference.

Gone was the plan of British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to make the Paris summit meeting the start of a series of top-level peacemaking conferences. The failure of the summit conference also buried French President Charles de Gaulle's hopes of arranging a cold war truce.

Khrushchev, scheduled a courtesy call on De Gaulle, a routine gesture preliminary to his departure for East Berlin and Moscow. The Soviet Premier also sent word to the press center that he would hold a news conference. This would give him a last chance in Paris to thunder his charge that Eisenhower torpedoed the meeting by refusing to condemn U.S. espionage flights over Soviet territory.

Eisenhower, De Gaulle and Macmillan scheduled a late-afternoon conference at the Elysee Palace, following a meeting of their foreign ministers at the French Foreign Office. De Gaulle invited Eisenhower, Khrushchev said.

and nine members of his delegation to lunch.

Indications were that Eisenhower and Macmillan would leave Paris Thursday. The President is due to go home by way of Portugal, where he will visit Lisbon for two days. Macmillan is expected to report to the House of Commons.

White House press secretary James Hagerly said Eisenhower's attitude toward Khrushchev's behavior was one of "complete disgust." Hagerly added the President's allies — presumably meaning Macmillan and De Gaulle — see it the same way.

But the Western Big Three were careful not to express any such feeling in a pre-midnight joint statement.

Nikita Has Choice in U. S. Election

PARIS (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today he has a preference in the U.S. presidential election campaign but "I don't want to tell Americans who to elect."

He made his comment in reply to a news conference question put this way: "As you have become a factor in the U.S. election, which president would you prefer to deal with?"

He began by saying he had talked with many persons in the United States last year and "most of them sincerely want peace."

"But," he said, "certain circles there want to spread misunderstanding."

There are certain persons with whom discussion is easier, for example a great American who had the name (Franklin D.) Roosevelt. We collaborated with him during the war but Roosevelt is dead and his policy is dead with him. Khrushchev said.

Ask Catholics to Assure 'Liberty'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The president of the Southern Baptist Convention today called upon Roman Catholics to give assurance they believe in "absolute religious liberty."

Dr. Ramsey Pollard of Memphis, Tenn., told 10,000 messengers here for the 103rd convention that:

"We Baptists believe in complete liberty for all men—Catholics, Methodists, Presbyterians, Pentecostals groups, the atheists and the agnostics. We cannot destroy religious liberty without destroying ourselves."

"It is a tragic fact that Roman Catholicism in many places in the world has denied this rich heritage to people who disagree with their doctrine..."

"We call upon our Roman Catholic friends to give assurance from the highest heights of their hierarchy that they believe in complete and absolute religious liberty."

"This must not be based upon expedience or upon a temporary conviction brought about but the customs and convictions of any particular country. It must be world wide and extended to all people regardless of the country in which they live."

Dr. Pollard said he was speaking as an individual and that "no man is authorized to speak for the Southern Baptist Convention, and the Southern Baptist Convention has no authority to speak for any local Baptist church."

The convention unanimously re-elected Dr. Pollard for a second term.

The Executive Committee postponed a decision on whether to move some of the convention's headquarters from Nashville, Tenn. It decided last night to defer a decision until September.

Assures U. S. Is Watching Trouble Spots

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan S. Twining told senators today that U.S. military leaders are keeping a close watch on trouble spots — including Berlin — in the present tension resulting from collapse of the summit meeting.

"Our forces are in a fine, ready condition and ready to go," Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told a Senate appropriations Committee in response to questions. He said the communications alert ordered by Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. Sunday was successful.

Twining accompanied Deputy Secretary of Defense James H. Douglas to a public hearing on the annual defense money bill of more than $9 billion dollars.

Douglas told the senators that the failure at the summit would not require any immediate change in planned defense spending since "at no time have we assumed there would be any easing of the threat."

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) said that Congress should not "quibble over a couple of billion dollars" meaning if this money were needed it would be provided.

Agents Seen in U. S. But Not Jailed

By JACK BELL

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today two Russian agents were spotted but not picked up on the day Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev addressed the United Nations last fall.

Nixon told a reporter the two Russian officials had been observed trying to obtain secret information in Springfield, Mass., at the time the Russian leader was campaigning to sell the idea that the Soviets wanted peace.

Because of Khrushchev's presence in this country, Nixon said, the two were not apprehended at the time.

He declined to say whether they were picked up later.

Earlier, he had been quoted in Syracuse as saying they were apprehended.

Nixon cited the incident as a defense of this country's action in sending the U2 spy plane over Russia only a few days before the now-collapsed summit was to convene.

"The FBI has declined comment on Nixon's statement and there has been no official Washington comment. Police in Springfield said they were aware of the case but that it had been handled by the FBI."

Nixon, on an upstate tour, told a news conference the Soviet Union had violated ground space. He said the two Russians had diplomatic status.

He said he could not give details of other Soviet spying efforts because to do so might expose the sources of intelligence this country has.

Springfield, a major industrial center where many defense contracts have been handled, is also the site of a big arsenal, for generations a center of research and manufacture in the field of small arms.

Only a few miles away, in adjacent Chicopee, is the huge Westover Air Force Base.

The theory in cases of spotting without making an arrest is to establish a continuing surveillance to determine whom the foreign agents are contacting in the United States. It was understood in Washington this was the plan followed in the case of the Russians reported to have been spotted in Massachusetts.

Addressing a Manpower Conference, Bland said the survey showed Batesville had ample qualified workers to fill the needs of the Seiberling Rubber Co. Construction of a Seiberling plant will start soon.

Contrasted to the Batesville area, Bland said. There are actual labor shortages in some sections of the state. He listed farm labor in eastern Arkansas and skilled labor in the northwest section as needs.

Swiss Reject Stiff Note From Russia

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—The government rejected as "injustified, unfounded and insulting" today a Soviet note charging Switzerland expelled two Soviet Embassy secretaries at U.S. suggestion to divert public attention from the spy plane incident.

The two Russians, Borislav Mozhin and Yves Protov, were arrested May 10 in a Zurich restaurant. The Swiss charged they expected to receive intelligence from West Germany and Switzerland from a double agent. They left Switzerland two days later.

The Soviet note of May 15 termed the expulsion a "stupid and clumsy" maneuver and a "gross provocation." It said the measure was purposely timed to aggravate the international situation on the eve of the summit.

The Swiss reply—handed over to the Soviet Foreign Ministry by the Swiss ambassador in Moscow, Alfred Zehnder—expressed astonishment at the Soviet charges and rejected them as "slandorous and completely without foundation."

Vatican Warns of 'Marxists'

VATICAN CITY (AP)—L'Osservatore Romano has reaffirmed the Roman Catholic Church's right to give guidance in social and political activities. The Vatican newspaper again warned Catholics against collaboration with Marxists.

The Vatican newspaper's editorial, entitled "Firm Points," was directed primarily at Italian Roman Catholics.

But Vatican sources said the editorial admonitions and directions are valid for Roman Catholics everywhere, including the United States, where Catholic Sen. John F. Kennedy is making a bid for the Democratic party nomination for president.

L'Osservatore Romano's editorial was prompted by the urging of leftist Christian Democrats that the almost entirely Catholic party seek support from the fellow-traveling Socialists.

L'Osservatore said the world today faces a period of "unknown and grave fears for the future, a preoccupying symptom, and great confusion of ideas."

The paper said this confusion of ideas was "especially true in some nations, even among Catholics, with regard to relations between Catholic doctrine and social and political activity, and between the ecclesiastical hierarchy and the Catholic laymen in the civil field."

The paper asserted that "the political-social problem cannot be separated from religion because it is a highly human problem. As a consequence the church cannot remain aloof especially when politics touch the altar."

L'Osservatore said that it was the right of Church authority to instruct regarding political collaboration "with those who do not admit religious principles."

"The irreducible antithesis between the Marxist system and Christian Doctrine is self-evident, as is that of materialism and spirituality, atheism and religious faith," said L'Osservatore.

Some opponents of Kennedy have contended that if elected president as a Catholic he would be subject to Church influence on his political decisions.

The senator was informed in Portland, Ore., Tuesday night of the Vatican newspaper's editorial. His press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said in a statement that Kennedy had repeatedly stated his support of the article of the U.S. Constitution providing for separation of church and state.

"He has said that this support is not subject to change under any conditions," the statement said.

Asks Issue Be Brought Before UN

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Diplomats predicted today Soviet spy plane charges and American demands for measures to prevent sneak attack both may come before the U.N. General Assembly next month.

This belief grew as the Big Four summit conference broke up.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said last week the U.S.S.R. would put the spy plane case before both the Assembly and the U.N. Security Council "whenever it is necessary."

President Eisenhower said Monday that "in the near future" he would propose that the U.N. create a system of aerial surveillance against surprise attack to operate in all countries that would accept it. He did not say to which U.N. body he would send the proposal.

When Eisenhower refused to apologize to Khrushchev for the May Day flight of the U.S. spy plane downed by the Soviets over Soviet territory and the Paris convulsion collapsed, U.N. delegates said both the Soviet Union and the United States probably would ask for a meeting of the 11-nation Security Council, perhaps this week.

A Soviet resolution to condemn the United States as an aggressor would fail to get the seven votes necessary for approval. The Soviets would veto the American "open sky" proposal. Both countries then would seek special session of the 82-nation Assembly to act on their proposals.

Most diplomats believed it would be difficult for either proposal to get the two-thirds vote in the Assembly necessary for approval. But some thought the United States could win with a resolution referring the aerial surveillance plan to the 10-nation disarmament committee in Geneva—where the Communist bloc could veto it again.

Gen. Norstad Ill

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Gen. Lauris Norstad's condition will prevent his attending Thursday's NATO Council meeting in Paris to hear reports on the collapse of the summit conference.

Norstad, the North Atlantic Alliance's supreme military commander in Europe, was hospitalized here May 6 after suffering a mild heart attack.

Roast Beef to Appear on Many Menus

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Roast beef will appear on many American dinner tables this Sunday, judging from the specials advertised by supermarkets and neighborhood groceries.

Rib roast is the favorite in the East and Far West, while round steak is favored in some Midwest areas. Prices run 4 to 10 cents a pound less than a week ago.

Further offerings of roast beef are in line with U.S. Department of Agriculture forecasts of supplies continuing above last year's levels. Better grades will account for most of the increase the first half of this year, it's said, while lower grades will be more plentiful the last half.

Lamb prices are up 4 to 10 cents a pound. Fryers are being pushed in the East, middle Atlantic region and Midwest. You can get them for 20 cents a pound in some places.

Best vegetable buys this week are carrots, corn, eggplant, lettuce, old stock medium onions, green and yellow squash, radishes, nearby kale, green onions, endive, escarole, Texas' new crop onions, sweet potatoes, peas, and tender new potatoes from California and Florida.

Best buys among fruits are bananas, oranges and pineapples, rice.

Feels Actor Passed Good Publicity

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When Dean Stockwell married Millie Perkins in Las Vegas recently, it was an unpublicized wedding climaxing an undercover romance.

"They are enough to make a press agent shed tears on his blue serge, this pair. They must be the despair of headline-minded Jerry Wald, who happens to have Stockwell starring in a film titled 'Sons and Lovers.'"

"Millie and I have the same attitude toward publicity," said young Stockwell in a rare canter mood.

"There are some actors who feel they need to be seen, to go through the publicity routines in order to get ahead in this business. If I had to do that to get rules, I think I'd give up acting."

while good bargains can be had from among avocados, limes, lemons, grapefruit and strawberries.

Unhindered by publicity, Stockwell's career has done very well. He has managed to bridge the chasm between being a child star and an adult actor. He admitted the leap has not been easy.

"I had my own problems to fight," he admitted. "One was the resentment I felt about having acted as a child. Being a child actor is an unnatural experience. You are forced to compete in an adult world. Most children can't understand that, and that's why so many child performers end up unhappily as adults."

"Another thing—I didn't understand how difficult acting was. An actor has to study himself. Child actors are naturals; they can't study themselves because they don't have the perception."

Rumors have circulated that Millie would quit her acting career, which consists so far of one role, Anne Frank.

"I don't think she'll retire," her husband said. "At least I hope she doesn't. She's a fine performer."

Help Jailed Africans

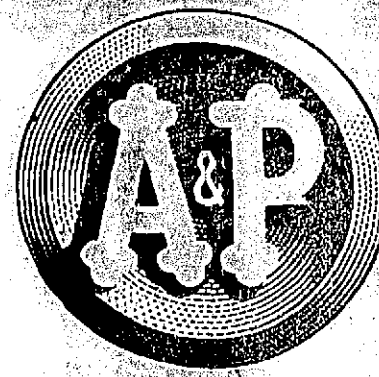

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Donors from the United States and other countries have contributed more than $4,000 to help 1,000 South Africans jailed as a result of the racial crisis. About $2,000 was collected in the United States.

Crawford county was named for William H. Crawford, secretary of War in 1815.

Would Probe Spy Plane Incident

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) called in the Senate today for a full investigation of what he called the "blunders" of the spy plane incident.

Mansfield, the assistant Democratic leader, spoke out after Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas had urged unity among Americans in the face of new international crises he said may follow collapse of the summit conference.

Johnson told the Senate it seems evident that the determination of the American people is going to be tested as never before.

"If there have been mistakes, responsibility will be assessed coolly and objectively," Johnson said.

"But one mistake we cannot afford to make right now is to weaken the free world by division within our own ranks."

Mansfield, on a different tack, said it is up to Congress "at the proper time" to "trace the chain of command or lack of it which set in motion the U2 flight, this flight which has undercut the deep-seated desire of the people and policies of the United States for peace."

"The blunders involved in that incident—and let us call it a spade a spade—the blunders in that incident and its handling are for this nation to face," Mansfield said.

"We shall find out why, on one day, the Congress and the people of the United States are told by the secretary of state that, in effect, it is the policy of the United States to sanction the continuance of reconnaissance flights across the borders of another nation and why the vice president, on a TV appearance last Sunday, confirmed this policy," Mansfield said.

"We shall find out why this happens at one time, and then, subsequently, in Paris, the President tells Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the world that such flights had already been halted last Tuesday by his order and are not to be resumed."

Calls on U. S. to Alert to Defenses

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—A call to alert the nation's defenses underlies the sober reaction in Congress today to the collapse of the summit conference.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, cautioned that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's "erratic actions might precipitate the horror of a nuclear war."

Others, without minimizing the potential seriousness of the situation, spoke not of war but of the need for a calm reappraisal in the light of developments.

"It is not the end of the world," commented Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn). Urging calmness among the peoples on both sides, he said "there must be a cooling off period and a fresh start toward easing of international tensions."

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.), like Humphrey a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said this country "must let the world know we will keep on trying to reach some agreements on disarmament and other problems in an effort to find peace."

But there was general agreement that the failure in Paris at last will increase cold war tensions.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), the Senate majority leader, made it clear that the country will stand behind President Eisenhower in the new crisis.

"We are going to have to dig in and maintain our unity and our sense of dedication to our freedom," Johnson said, "because it is obvious that the Soviets are going to do their best to test our nerves."

Russell, saying the cold war has been intensified and a hot war is possible, added in a statement: "This country should make every effort to get its defense establishment in order and on the alert in order to repel and annihilate any aggressor."

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn) said the conference failed because we could not further compromise with or appease communism.

"Let us hope that this puts an end to appeasement in all forms," Dodd declared, "but particularly in the critical fields of nuclear development and the fate of Berlin."

Jury Refuses to Endow Man

ASHDOWN, Ark. (AP)—The Little River Grand Jury has refused to indict James Hoover, 32, of Red Bluff, in the slaying of 53-year-old Otis Phillips last Friday.

The jury returned a "not true bill" yesterday.

Authorities were told that Phillips was shot after he drove to Hoover's home and threatened to kill Hoover.
